A GROWING NEWSPAPER A GROWING COMMUNITY

Vol. 64, No. 41 CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA 10c Thurs., October 18, 1956

IT WAS PLENTY HOT . . . Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the garage at the residence of Robert F. Farrell, 801 Audrey Ave., on Sunday afternoon. The house, to which the garage was attached by an open breeze-way was saved. Fire fighting equipment and 14 firemen from the Cambrian, Quito and San Tomas stations of the Central Fire District, under Battalion Chief H. C. Turner, fought the blaze. Farrell reported that he noticed the garage was on fire shortly after he had smelled smoke. During the height of the flames, a neighbor reported that the roof of the house raised as if an explosion had taken place. ..The Campbell Press photographer in the above photo caught the flames at the height of their fury.—Campbell Press photo.

Where is the Sewer .... or the Suer?

LOST: One sewer line!

Two irate local real estate agents who even suggested they might sue for the lost sewer appeared before the City Council Monday night to see what could be done about a sewer line that was lost, strayed or stolen (or never put in) since it was supposedly put in during the chaotic construction days of WPA.

Joe Agostinho and Bill Harrison told the Council that their offices, in selling a lot in Campbell, had, in good faith, accepted a deposit from the buyer based on the fact that the sewer lateral was in.

According to a map of the now non-existent Campbell Sanitary District in the office of Sanitation District No. 4, its successor, the lateral was there. But when the buyer tried to hook onto the location shown on th emap, he found nothing.

Naturally the man was perturbed. He jumped the agent, Bill Harrison, who sold him the lot. Harrison, in turn, who had received the listing from Agostinho's office, climbed on Agostinho. The Sanitation District admitted to them that the map was inaccurate but was the only record of the laterals.

The two realtors then joined forces to find out what the City Council was going to do about it. The City, it was claimed, inherited the problems (and the inaccurate maps) of the old Campbell Sanitary District along with whatever lines that existed.

Councilman Richard Morton (who is also president of the Sanitation District Board) told the realtors that the district had found many other inaccuracies in the old WPA maps and it was felt that they should be used only at "one's own peril".

Mayor John M. Chargin told the two agents that the Council would try to get a legal opinion by the next meeting to see where the responsibility lies in the matter. Even if the lateral itself couldn't be found.

Bumps to Go!

The bumps on Winchester Road are not long for this world.

City Councilmen heaved a collective sigh of relief on Monday night when they were assured by Mark E. Thomas, city engineer, that the long-awaited Winchester resurfacing job would start within a week.

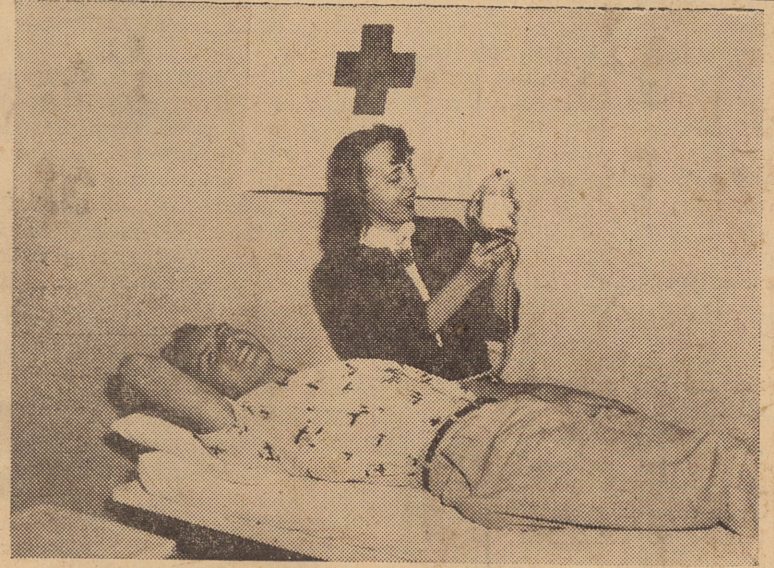
Prior to Thomas' reassurance, the Council had awarded the contract for the project to Leo P. Piazza Co. of San Jose. The work, which will consist of planing the road and putting a two-inch new surface on it the length of the city limits (from the south line of Hamilton Ave. to the north line of Budd Ave.) will cost $14,900.

Thomas told the Council that the State has agreed to make flood money available for the entire job.

Parents Ask Renewal Of School-Bus Service

A petition signed by 40 parents of Dover School demanding reinstatement of school-bus service for 44 children was presented Thursday night at a trustee meeting. The petition declared that bus service was abruptly discontinued October 2 with only one day's notice.

John Dixon, chairman of the Campbell Elementary School District Board of Trustees, declared that buses are overloaded and that the children in question do not live within the bus-carrying zone set up by the school. The Board is conducting a survey on the matter.



Blood Bank Goes to School

Faculty and students of Campbell High School under the direction of Miss Christine Flynn, faculty advisors and members of the Junior Red Cross will conduct the first blood drive of the year at the high school next Monday, October 22. The drive will take place in Room 46 at the high school from 3:30 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Students have been urged to inform their parents and friends of the opportunity to give blood which will be used to build up the blood supply on which local residents can draw in case of emergencies.

Any person who is willing to donate blood will be welcomed, the students announce and the Junior Red Cross has even set up a baby sitting detail to make it more convenient for mothers to come to the blood bank.

For the Youngsters

Hallowe'en Party

Sponsored by the mechants in the Campbell Shopping Center (Winchester Road at Latimer), a Halloween party for the youngsters of the community will take place on Wednesday, October 31, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the shopping center.

General chairman for the affair is G. A. Brinkhurst, owner of Laurel Variety and Toys with all his fellow merchants assisting. The Campbell Junior Chamber of Commerce under Charles Livingstone will conduct a "spook show" in one of the vacant store buildings and a parade with the youngsters in Halloween costume is also planned.

There will be entertainment and candy will be furnished free. Prizes will be awarded for the funniest, most frightening and most original costumes. The youngsters will be divided into age groups in the prize competition.

School District Gets City Blessing on Move

Moving of a portable classroom from the Hamilton School to the Dover School got the blessing of the City Council Monday night at a special meeting called primarily for that purpose.

At the previous meeting the Council had delayed approving the classroom on two counts: (1) no fee had been paid and (2) the route was frowned upon.

Between the two meetings, C. E. (Brad) Bradley, school district business manager, had (1) paid the necessary fee and (2) changed the route. So everything was hunky-dory.

The new route will be up Central from the school to Pamlar over to the San Jose-Los Gatos Road to Hamilton again and thence to Dover. The previous route suggested was Hamilton to Winchester to Camden Ave. over to San Jose-Los Gatos Road and thence to Hamilton and to Dover.

The moving of the classromm, school officials point out, is necessary to alleviate the double sessions at Dover.

Another Store Gets Into Face-Lift Act

"Operation Face-Lift" for the downtown business section of Campbell Ave. was given a new impetus this week with the announcement that Milt and Clarence Nelson, local business men, have applied for Planning Commission approval of remodeling plans for their building at First and Campbell Ave. The plans of the Nelson brothers, who operate the Nelson Grain and Supply Co., will go before the Commission at its regular meeting tonight at the Country Woman's Clubhouse.

At the same meeting, the application of Tony Raffanti for approval of his plans for a new building on the southeast corner of Campbell Ave. and Second St. is expected to be acted upon.

This will mark the second time that Raffanti's plans have been presented. Approval was delayed in the first instance because a parking variance was needed. The public hearing on the request for the variance will also take place at tonight's meeting.

Plans for the remodeling of the Nelson building call for the entire front of the store to be changed following the popular rustic-type or country style of architecture. The new front will give the appearance of an old-style barn complete with a pulley and chain hanging from the eaves above the faked hay-loft. The front will be all glassed giving a clear view of the interior of the store. It will be recessed from the sidewalk.

According to Milt Nelson of the firm, when the remodeling is completed, their present business operations will be moved to the rear of the building. The entrance to the grain and supply company will be on Second St.

The front portion of the building opening on Campbell Ave. will be approximately 50 x 60 feet. Present plans call for it to be leased to Norman Corvello, owner of the Campbell Hardware Co. Corvello must seek new quarters because the building in which he is now located and owned by Carl Field is to be torn down.

The Nelsons hope to start their remodeling work immediately and that it will be ready for occupancy by the hardware store shortly after the first of the year.

Planners to Set Zoning Tonight For New Section

In addition to approving building plans that are tied in with the current face-lift program for downtown Campbell, the City Planners tonight at the Country Woman's Clubhouse will hold a public hearing on the establishing of a manufacturing zone for an area on the southern city limits of Campbell recently annexed to the city.

Known officially as annexation 1956-5, this area consists of approximately 60 acres adjacent to the Campbell Lumber Co., extending along the Southern Pacific Railroad to Parr Ave.

When the hearing date was set, the official notice listed that it would be zoned either M-1-S (light industrial) or M-2-S (heavy industrial). However, Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, reported this week that he would recommend that the entire area be made M-1-S and thus avoid any confusion in the minds of the people.

This area adjoins the parcel of land owned by the Cascade Research Inc., now in Los Gatos. The firm is planning to build a new plant on the site. This section, too, will soon become a part of Campbell and, it is understood, that a new and special type of light manufacturing zoning is planned for it.

A report by Barrett on the proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance to allow for the 15-foot setbacks instead of the present 25-feet is also scheduled for the meeting tonight. The change in the minimum setback requirement is necessary because the eventual widening of Winchester Road under the adopted plan-line.

On the agenda also tonight is the request by subdividers of the Winchester Village (just outside the city limits) to place a sign advertising the tract within the city limits.

The Commission is also expected to notify the City Council as required by ordinance that the term of Commissioner Hollis Logue will expire on December 31, in order that an appointment can be made before that time.

AGAIN THOSE NUMBERS!

Mail carriers in Campbell are still in many instances delivering mail to local residents who have not bothered to post their new house numbers. Many residents also, they report, have not changed the addresses on magazines and periodicals. The task of delivering mail in such cases will become increasingly difficult with the approach of Christmas season and it may result in considerable delay in the receipt of mail.

Council Acts to Curb Traffic Danger for Kids

Recognizing the traffic dangers that exist at intersections where school children must cross, the City Council Monday night took steps to curb some of the danger at two locations in Campbell.

The Council (1) authorized the drafting of emergency ordinance which would allow a stop sign and cross walks to be placed on Virginia Ave. where it intersects with Rincon Ave. (2) authorized additional crossing guards at Winchester Road for the Cherry Lane School.

Placing the stop sign at Virginia Ave. was a direct result of an appeal made by residents of that area and the recommendation of Councilman Richard Morton, who as traffic engineer had made a study of the situation. Four streets, Virginia, Rincon, Cypress and Bucknall, come together at this intersection.

Morton reported that a traffic count was made at the intersection on two different days and hourly readings were taken. The count showed that approximately one out of every five cars went straight ahead onto Cypress. Morton said his observation also showed that at the present time few cars bothered to slow down for the intersection creating a serious traffic hazard.

He recommended that cross walks be put on Bucknall and Cypress but none on Rincon or Virginia. The walks would allow the school children to remain on one side of the street. He also suggested that "stop ahead" signs be painted on the street 250 feet from the stop sign.

Morton's report, made verbally, was adopted immediately by his fellow councilment. Then, upon the motion of Councilman Charles Rose, the "city attorney's pro-tem" (Morton and Mayor John M. Chargin in the absence of Joe Bonacina) were authorized to draft an emergency amendment to the present traffic ordinance to allow for the changes.

Present at the meeting were five of the residents of the area who originated the action. Mrs. Wesley Cushman, 109 Virginia, acted as spokesman for the group and thanked the Council for their consideration and action.

The crossing guard question came up when Homer Hyde appealed to the Council to add more crossing guards for the Cherry Lane School. Adult guards are used only in the morning and afternoon now, it was pointed out, and sixth graders and less act as guards at noon when one of the two sessions at the school ends. He pointed out that the school only goes through the sixth grade and that it was dangerous to have such small youngsters acting as guards.

Mayor Chargin explained that the Council had been advised of the condition that existed but had not allowed for any additional guards in their budget because school district officials had told them at budget time last spring that no changes in the guard system would be needed this year. He said that it was after school started when the Council was informed of the need for more guards.

The Council authorized the additional guards but wondered at the same time where the money was coming from to pay them. The City assumed the responsibility of providing guards several years ago, although Council members pointed out that Campbell was one of the few cities that did bear this burden. In most cases, school districts provide the guards, it was noted. On a limited budget, the more than $3000 needed for guards presents a financial problem to a youthful city, it was explained. Councilmen were also worried over the need of additional patrols each year because of the rapid growth of the schools.

"Where will it end?" Councilman Myron Fairchild wanted to know.

No one could answer him.

Volunteers Ring Door-Bells Here For Red Feather

Volunteer Red Feather door-bell ringers continue to canvass the Campbell area in quest of the $10,000 quota which is Campbell's share of $478.966 to aid 30 Red Feather agencies throughout the County.

Give The United Way

The drive got underway Monday of last week. Campbell is slated to benefit from the campaign through Red Feather allocations to the Campbell Library and milk fund. Other allocations go to such widely diverse agencies → as the Boy Scouts, Family Service Association and the Salvation Army.

To spur the campaign in Campbell, Wes Briggs will donate the entire day's profit made from gasoline sales this Saturday at his Union Oil Service Station to the Red Feather. Briggs' station is located at Latimer Avenue and Winchester Road.

According to Edward H. Ryan, campaign chairman, the goal of $478,966 set for next year's operation of the agencies represents only a bare minimum. "Even though the goal is 12 per cent higher than the amount of money raised last year, for the health, welfare and recreation causes, it is still far short of what these services asked for."

Howard M. Lillingston directs the campaign locally. Area chairmen in the three Campbell areas are, Miss Marion Hill, Mrs. Hugh Whistler and Howard Atkinson. Residential chairman is Mrs. Earl H. Handley.

Campbell Adult Center Features Choral Program

Ray Johnson, music specialist and choral director will conduct a choral group this fall and winter at the Campbell Adult Center.

The choir master will accept beginning pupils or pupils with choir experience, as this is to be a course designed to interest the average music-minded person, with emphasis on enjoyment and appreciation rather than the technical aspects of music.

The course could include, depending on the interests of those attending, such things as: choir conducting, community song conducting, general musicianship, voice production and development, music appreciation, and as an added stimulus form a work-shop type of choir which would work on a musical production to be decided on by those in the class.

Johnson has an A.B. degree in Music and Education, is a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, is a choir director, teacher of general music at Campbell Grammar School, and a vocal soloist.

THIS LITTLE PIGGY STAYS HOME

This little boy's "bank deposit" has a lot in common with the $2,258,000 annual payroll earned by employees of Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corporation here in this area.

Both of them stay home.

A great many of these payroll dollars are banked or spent right here. They circulate and re-circulate through almost every store, shop, business and industry in this area.

And all the while—yes, even when thrifty little boys pop them into piggy banks—they are helping this community prosper and grow.

SAN TOMAS SUMMARY

Isabelle Pechin
FR 8-8040

The men of the San Tomas Baptist Church work Monday, Thursday and Friday on finishing the inside of the church. Rev. J. S. Warren acts as foreman. The Missionary Society provides refreshments. This week the committee included Lillian Herriman, Norma Hoover, Velda Lisenby, and Loyce Gouker.

Brownie troop 430, led by Dorothy Cooke is planning its program for this winter. They want to learn to embroider and to make cookies. They love part singing, and are beginning to pick out the Christmas Carols they will practice so that they can go Caroling on Christmas Eve.

Each week they pick a household chore that they will pay special attention to that week—maybe making their beds, maybe wiping the dishes—so that they will learn to do it just exactly right. This Spring they will "fly up" and become Girl Scouts.

Walter Hancock, advisor for Explorer's Troop 30 is attending the University of Scouting in San Jose. Members of the troop with their dates will attend a county-wide barn dance Saturday at St. Joseph's School Auditorium.

The troop got its Christmas Cards and will begin selling them next week.

The Howard Greers and their children, Kathryn, Donna, and Barbara have just returned from a "rock-hound" trip to Cold Dale, Nevada and the back country near there. They ran into a snow storm going over Sonora Pass, and the snow plough has been necessary to keep the road clear there. They found the weather at Cold Dale clear, but chilly.

They spent some time in the neighborhood of the ghost town of Columbia, which at one time was a flourishing mill town for the silver mine at Candelaria. There was no water of any sort at Candelaria, while Columbia had a plentiful supply of salt water from the salt marshes. Both Columbia and Candelaria hauled their fresh water (as Cold Dale does today) from the well at Basalt.

There are ruins of a store, a school, a newspaper, and houses for about a thousand people at Columbia. A new mill is being set up to run the tailings with today's improved methods.

Apparently at one time, there was a turquoise mine near Columbia, as they found quantities of turquoise chips near the workings. They also brought back agate and petrified wood.

QUITO QUORNER

Quito PTA has a membership of 328, according to the report given by Ann Younis, membership chairman, to the Executive Board last week. Miss Peacock's fourth grade won the banner for the largest number of members. It was reported that $274.00 was taken in on the membership drive. Of this money, $32.80 goes to help finance the legislative committee and $16.40 to the National Committee with the balance remaining here.

The PTA meeting held Tuesday combined the regular annual school open house with the PTA business meeting. From 7 until 8 p.m. each teacher received the parents of her pupils in the classroom. Delia Haines was in charge of the room mothers who prepared coffee and cookies for the parents. President Herm Sterner presided over the business meeting.

Marge Martin has been entertaining her sister, Mrs. Ray Anthony from Brooklyn, Iowa. Last week Mrs. Anthony, Clara Wheeler and her mother visited young Dan Anthony and his family in Fullerton.

Ray Martin, and son Raymond are driving her home via Fort Collins where young Don Anthony and his family live. On the return trip from Iowa, they plan to visit Bryce Canyon and Zion National park.

The Sew-and-so Club held its annual "Husband's Banquet" last week at Mariani's on El Camino. At all its regular meetings this group of women sew and mend and visit with their neighbors. Once a year it takes the dues it has paid in, and arranges a dinner dance. Barbara Grutt was the chairman in charge of the affair.

Rotary Receives Committee Reports

The Campbell Rotary Club heard committee reports at its assembly last Monday night at Villa Felice. The reports showed progress in many phases of community activity.

Satisfactory results were given concerning the Club sponsored safety program. Mention was made of the essay and poster contest to be held in cooperation with the California Optometric Society. Camden and Campbell high schools will participate in the affair, and the Club will provide prizes.

A report was made on the visiting students program. A high school student from the area attends meetings of the club and becomes familiar with their various services and functions.

Plans were made for the Halloween party slated for October 27. It is to be staged at the Guadalupe Red Shirts' Hall. 26 members attended the meeting.

Calaveras Creek was so named by Captain Moraga of the Mexican Army after he found a large number of skulls along the creek banks.

Pundita Circle Hears Speech on Proposition '3'

Marie Carr, associate professor of speech at San Jose State College, spoke to the Pundita Circle on Proposition 3 at their meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Irene Kirsher, 15520 Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road.

Miss Carr, explaining the $200 million state building construction program to be voted on November 6, noted that the proposal is presented because of overcrowding in all state institutions—both present and potential. She particularly emphasized the needs at California's institutions of higher education, caused by the great population influx and California's soaring birth rate.

Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. Effie McCall. Mrs. Hylda Peck arranged for the guest speaker.

Finding A Common Ground

It is important in a community such as Campbell that a friendly relationship exist at all times between the city government and the school administration.

Especially is this true when both city and schools face a tremendous growth situation, resulting in problems common to both.

It is to the mutual advantage of both (after all both represent the people) to arrive at a common denominator to find some of the answers for the goal in each case is the same: i.e., what is for the best interest of the public.

We feel very strongly that the relationship that now exists between the city and the school districts can be improved. We realize, of course, that both the high school and elementary districts extend far beyond the confines of the city limits. But problems that are commo nto both within the city limits we feel can be better solved if there is a better understanding on both sides of the fence.

A case in point is the ever-present and ever-growing crossing guard problem.

The city has assumed the responsibility for furnishing and paying the crossing guards at various intersections in town where the traffic danger is the greatest. The city is limited in its finances and it is difficult to dig up the necessary funds to pay the guards especially when there is a change in the need after budget time.

But we are not interested in where the responsibility lies in this case. We know that the kids must be protected at whatever cost and from what pocket of the taxpayers the dough comes is purely incidental.

Our point is that this situation clearly illustrates that the city and the schools have common problems. More is at stake than just who foots the bill.

We suggest that periodical conferences should be held between city and school officials. At these conferences, problems common to both could be discussed and as a result a better understanding between both groups would result.

The problem of crossing guards, although important, is just one of many that now exist or will arise in the future.

We think these conferences would be beneficial to all concerned.

And that includes Mr. and Mrs. Citizen Taxpayer, who, after all, must pay the freight one way or another.

Oh, Those Plan Lines

The City Council next Monday will hold the first public hearing on the new Campbell Ave. plan-line which has been forwarded by the Planning Commission.

The adoption of a plan-line for any street does not mean that the street will be widened at once. Rather it "freezes" the property in event of the future widening.

The plan calls for 10-feet to be taken from both sides of Campbell Ave. which will result in a 90-foot width thoroughfare.

We feel that the plan-line as presented is as equitable as could be arrived at unde rthe circumstances.

In our opinion no other plan was feasible.

The question of the correct plan-line for Winchester Road, on the other hand, is a street of a different color.

The Planning Commission had a heck of a time arriving at a decision in this case. The plan-line as approved by the Planners would widen the road by taking land equally from both sides, virtually the same as Campbell Ave.

The Council must also hold a hearing on this plan but that will not take place until next month.

We are not completely convinced that the Planners have come up with the right answer on the Winchester Road deal, but, we must confess, we are not sure what IS the right answer.

In our opinion, Winchester Road will be widened long before Campbell Ave. so it is important that the plan-line as finally adopted by the City Council is the logical one.

We wish we could help 'em out.

George Vierhus

For many months we have heard criticisms from both passers-by and local residents of the appearance of the vacant lot on Winchester Road across from the Campbell Shopping Center. It needed a hair cut badly.

The weeds had grown so high that they hid the apartment houses at the rear. We agreed that it was an eye-sore and we were always secretly hoping that something would be done about it.

Not so long ago we were out with Doug Fitzgerald, chairman of the Rotary safety committee, shooting pictures of bikes at the various schools in town to emphasize the current local Rotarian "Keep Your Eye on the Small Fry" drive.

In going by the weedy lot we decided to take a picture of it in its decrepit state. Unfortunately we discovered, after we stopped and sighted in, that we were out of film.

But we weren't too worried about that.

"It's not like an accident or something like that," we told Doug, real professional-like, "That lot won't get away so we can always take that picture."

The next time we saw Doug he told us we had lost our last chance to take the picture of the weeds at their height. It seems on the very afternoon that we had run out of film, the lot was bulldozed and the weeds covered up.

But somehow, you know, we didn't mind missing that shot.

Once in the evening and once in the morning the passenger train chugs through town on its round trip up and down the peninsula to and from San Francisco.

Thus the chances of having the crossing blocked by the train are relatively slim.

We wonder what the driver of the ambulance thought last Wednesday night when he was tearing through town with his red light blinking and siren shrieking and had to come to a grinding halt at the railroad crossing on Campbell Ave. The train was going by. The timing couldn't have been better.

We think the councilmen made an excellent choice in naming Charles Schmidt to the vacancy on the Council. Schmidt has an excellent background and we think he will prove of valuable assistance to his fellow councilmen and to the city.

Because there are now two members named "Charles" on the City Council we have suggested that Schmidt could be called "Charles the Coach" to distinguish him from "Charles the Rose". Schmidt has had considerable experience in the coaching field.

Maybe just before each Council meeting he could conduct a series of setting-up exercises so that the City Fathers would be able to get into better condition to withstand the rigors of the meeting because the going does get pretty rough at times.

Golly, come to think of it, maybe the five Campbell Councilmen could form a basketball team. They could be called Campbell's Council Comets and could challenge other city councils on the basketball floor.

We are just kidding, you know, but maybe a basketball game would be one way to decide some of those troublesome inter-city questions that come up. After every other method has failed.

Anita Jacobus, of The Press ad staff, got the surprise of her life the other day when she went to get into her car at the office and found a huge German shepherd curled up on the floorboard. The dog apparently had climbed through the open window of the car and made himself quite at home. He was perfectly willing to go for a ride.

Anita was quite startled on having an uninvited guest in her car but the guy was so friendly that Anita and the rest of us at the office fell for him in a big way.

Later in the day on checking with the County Health Department (the dog had both a license and vaccination tag) it was learned that he was owned by the Richard Waters, 124 Dillon.

Mrs. Waters came down to get him and we learned that his name was "Duke". We were all sorry to see him go for during his stay with us he had virtually adpoted the entire office force.

He was developing rapidly into a real "news hound".

But that's a dog's life for you.

The Press was on the receiving end last Sunday of one of the nicest compliments that it could be paid. So pleased are we with the nice words found in the bulletin of the Congregational Church last Sunday that we must repeat them here:

"We wish to express our sincere thanks to the Campbell Press for their complete cooperation in publishing news items pertaining to our church affairs. If you are not already a subscriber to this fine local paper—you should be".

A number of people told us about it and we are much appreciative to Rev. Corwin Olds and his congregation for the expression of gratitude. We don't ever seem to hear enough of things like that, so it does our collective hearts good.

Myron Fairchild was the first to tell us about it so we swiped his copy of the bulletin. He promised to bring in a couple more.

We figure to post them around the office in several conspicuous places so when we get bawled out from time to time we can glance at the kind words and renew our faith in mankind.

Pedestrians Now Are in Danger Period CHP Says

October through March is the danger period for pedestrians in California, says the California Highway Patrol.

"The increased pedestrian fatality rate during the fall and winter months is due primarily to lowered visibility during the early evening hours," Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell said. "Motorists and pedestrians alike should keep in mind that the distorted perspective of the twilight hours calls for increased alertness on the part of both drivers and pedestrians."

"During the six month period, October 1955 through March of this year, 6800 pedestrians were killed or injured in traffic accidents in California," Caldwell continued. "The highest hourly rate was recorded during the hours six to eight p.m."

"To avoid accidents pedestrians should wear something white at night and look both ways before crossing any street or roadway," concluded Commissioner Caldwell. "Remember, what you don't see can hurt you."

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

At a time when thousands of Americans are being sent abroad every year to serve the Government of the United States of America in capacities ranging from high diplomacy to plain secretarial and clerical, it stands to reason that large training programs must be conducted not only to prepare these people for their specific jobs and tasks, but also to acquaint them with the general problems of the areas to which they are going, the people with whom they will be dealing, and the many do's and don'ts that go with it.

Fortunately, our Government is performing this task of training with an ingenuity and on a scale that deserves the highest praise. Whether it be the Department of the Army, which lectures soldiers on the customs of areas in which they are to be stationed; or the Department of State which gives its Foreign Service Officers what amounts to a highly compressed college course including languages, economics, political science, and philosophy, every agency runs some form of school and training program, usually in close collaboration with the many institutions of higher learning in Washington. No one goes overseas to represent the Government of the United States without first receiving sufficient training to understand thoroughly the mission of his particular agency and the United States in general, as well as the problems he can expect to encounter and the background necessary to deal with peoples of other nations.

This schooling is not conducted in tight compartments by the various governmental interests. Our mission would be severely hampered if a State Department Vice-Consul were unaware of the tasks performed in the same area by, say, a technical assistance man. An Army Public Information Officer abroad cannot function effectively unless he is also acquainted with the aims of the Voice of America, the goals of the Commerce Department, and the policy of the State Department. Consequently, Army Psychological Warfare Officers sit in classes at the Information Agency, Agriculture experts teach in a State Department school, and all this is co-ordinated by agencies of the National Security Council which, under the personal direction of the President, sees to it the U. S. policy is hammered out on every major issue and then passes the decision on to the various departments and agencies.

HEARD Around Campus

By KEN HIRD

Editor's note: Ken Hird, who attends classes at San Jose State in the daytime and operates the linotype on the night shift at The Campbell Press, tries his hand this week on a "column" about activities at State.

Something new has been added! For students who find it necessary to lean against something for any reason whatsoever (after an exam for example) pedestal-type fire signals have been installed around campus for just such emergencies.

Seriously, it is interesting to note that the seven new alarms are hooked up directly with the city fire system, but won't be in operation until the end of this month.

Fires are few and far between at SJS but with increased enrollment and new buildings such preventative action shows a measure of honest thought. Cost of installation was over $11,000.

Centionnial Homecoming is scheduled for November and committees are hard at work preparing for the big event.

Last Thursday was dubbed "Education Day". The California Student Teachers Association sponsored the affair. Dr. Alfred Grommon, associate professor of English and education at Stanford, spoke on traits of mind and told what teachers can do to help instill and develop these traits in their pupils.

SJS Radio-TV series, over radio station KEEN, is presented from 8:30 to 9:00 p.m. on Thursdays.

The series includes documentaries, dramas, and notes of interest concerning elections, homecoming and the college centennial celebration.

CARMEL HONEYMOON . . . followed the September 29 wedding of Mr. and Mrs. David Pereira, who will make their home in San Jose. The bride is the former Claire Elizabeth Ralston of Campbell. Pereira is stationed at San Diego with the U.S. Marine Corps.

Couple To Live In San Jose After Honeymoon

Claire Elizabeth Ralston and David Thomas Pereira were united in marriage September 20 in ceremonies performed at the Calvin Presbyterian Church, San Jose. The Rev. W. Malcolm Gwaltney officiated.

As the bride was escorted down the aisle by her father she wore a white ballarina-length gown with chiffon-fitted bodice, laced back with a modified scoop-neckline. She carried French pink and white carnations mixed with pink roses.

The reception was held at the Hawaiian Gardens in San Jose. Forty-two friends and relatives witnessed the cutting of the three tier wedding cake, beneath magnolia decorations.

When Mrs. Pereira left on the couple's honeymoon trip to Carmel she wore a cotton plaid princess-style dress with red accessories. The newlyweds will make their home in San Jose.

The bride is the daughter of Stewart C. and Alice N. Ralston of 134 N. Bland Ave., Campbell. She is a graduate of Campbell High School, and is the sister of William R. Ralston.

The groom is the son of Joaquin and Mary Lou Pereira of 220 Lincoln Ave., San Jose. He is a graduate of San Jose High School, and is presently a Pfc. in the U.S. Marine Corps, stationed at San Diego.

Minnesota Club Dance

All former residents of the state of Minnesota are invited to the Minnesota Club's dance this coming Saturday at 9 p.m. in the Moose Lodge Hall, 191 Santa Clara St., San Jose. Refreshments will be served, according to Vivian Lindberg, publicity chairman.

CAMBRIAN SCHOOL GETS FACILITIES

A new surface has been provided at Cambrian School for the basketball courts and additional fencing has been added. These improvements will aid in the use and safety of the grounds.

The Cambrian School District Board of Trustees met October 8 and adopted new report cards for the district. The cards were submitted by a faculty committee and designed to better evaluate the childrens work and improve articulation between grades. Concerning a religious release program: the Board voted to cooperate with any such program on an after school hours basis. The board also passed on a policy to eliminate any non-school group activities that would take pupils away from their regular school day.

KIDS TO ADD TWIST THIS HALLOWEEN

Youngsters from the First Methodist Church will add a new twist to the traditional evening of "trick 'r treat" this coming Halloween.

Instead of asking for candy, the youngsters will ask for "Trick'r treat for UNICEF"—donations in the form of small change to the United Nations Children's Fund. The proceeds will help the children of the world to health and happiness.

The children will thereby join the national trend which last year included 600 communities who contributed more than half a million dollars to the Fund.

General chairman for the program is Mrs. Earl Wight.

The Sulphur Bank Mine in Lake County is renowned for its spectacular open-cut workings; first worked for sulphur in 1865, it is a notable quicksilver producer.

Vincent Lavois Weds Joan Correa

An August 26th ceremony at St. Joseph's Church in San Jose united in marriage the former Joan Irene Correa of Garden Grove, California, and Vincent Lavios Jr., of Cambrian Park.

As she came down the aisle on the arm of her stepfather, William A. Posey, the bride wore a full-length cream-colored satin brocade trimmed with pearls, and a finger-tip veil-net.

Bridesmaids Pat Cole and Frances Wright preceded the bride dressed in violet crystalette gowns and bearing white carnations. The Maid of Honor, Dee Kennady, was attired in blue crystalette and bore a bouquet of pink carnations.

The bride's six year old sister, Carol Posey, dressed in blue crystalette and carrying pink carnations, served as flowergirl.

The bride's mother wore blue silk with white accessories and a white orchid.

The groom's mother wore blue and white silk with white and black accessories. This was contrasted by a white orchid.

Following the wedding a reception was given in the Hotel De Anza in San Jose. The room was decorated in while gladiolus and asters. Mrs. Diane Nance served as vocalist as the newlyweds and more than 125 friends and relatives crowded around a four-tier wedding cake.

As she left for her six-day honeymoon trip to Meeks Bay, Lake Tahoe, Mrs. Lavios wore a pale-blue silk suit with white accessories set off by a white orchid.

Best man was Sergio Vasquez. Ushers were James C. Lavios, one of the groom's brothers, and Raymond A. Dundon. The groom's other brother is George Lavios.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent V. Lavios of 15207 Stratford Drive in Cambrian Park.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Posey, 13702 Dawson St., Garden Grove.

Bucs Battle Willow Glen Friday

By Richard Ferguson

Campbell's Buccaneers fresh from last week's victory over Washington High will be out to remain on the winning track when they meet the Willow Glen Rams at Willow Glen tomorrow afternoon at 3:00.

The Rams massive line will be the main problem for the Bucs. The Rams lost all their experienced men in the backfield through graduation but the block busting line may provide the added punch to defeat the Bucs.

Coach Jim Muir's Bucs have a better win-loss average in games so far and expect to battle the Rams on even terms. Experienced men like Mike Profit, Hector Cordova, Mike Browne, Gary Prnjak and Ray Salvano can hold their own against the biggest men in the league.

Gene Bowen will be the Buc's game captain for tomorrow's game.

Spartans to Meet San Diego State

Seeking its second win in four starts, San Jose State will travel to San Diego Saturday to renew its rivalry with San Diego State in the annual Shrine charity game starting at 8:30 p.m. at Balboa Stadium.

The Aztecs, surprise victors over Cal Poly last week, have won their first three games under their new coach, Paul Governali, former all-time great at Columbia.

Despite losing to Stanford, 40-20, on Saturday, Coach Bob Bronzan found several encouraging items in the loss. Most notable was the running attack which ground out 271 yards, nearly twice the total gained on the ground in the first two games. Meanwhile, however, the Spartain air game which had averaged 258 yards in the first two tilts, stumbled and picked up only 69 yards.

Cambrian Enrollment Passes 2200 Mark

The Cambrian School District's enrollment has surpassed the 2200 mark——a 22 per cent increase over last year, according to school officials.

The opening of the district's fourth school in November will lessen present class loads. It will also provide the use of the shop and home ecomnomics rooms at Cambrian that are now being used as classrooms because of the overcrowding.

The new wing at Steindorf School is now open for public inspection.

CAMPBELL HIGH LOSES

Campbell High School's "B" football team lost to Washington "B's" 21-0 while Campbell "JV's" were losing a close one to Willow Glen, 12 to 6. Both games were played last Thursday.

Campbell Edges Washington High By 27-19 Score in League Game

By Richard Ferguson

The Buccaneers of Campbell High edged past the Washington Huskies 27-19 in their second league encounter Friday afternoon at Campbell. Both teams played good offensive games but on defense the line left gaping holes for easy line plunging gains.

Washington took the opening kick-off but failed to gain the required 10 yards in four downs. The last down kick set the pigskin on Campbell's 45 yard line from where Campbell's shifty fullback, Calvin Vargas, split the line for a beautiful 30 yard run to the Huskies 15 yard line.

Bud Scribner kept the drive going when he paced off another 12 yards through the center of the Washington line. Fourth down and two yards to go was the situation when Scribner again took over and plunged over right tackle for a touchdown. Scribner also added the extra point which made the score 7-0 for Campbell.

Kick Proves Break

Washington took the kick on their 5-yard line but were unable to gain more than 7 yards against the stiff Campbell line and were forced to kick from their own 12 yard line. This kick proved to be a break for the Huskies as on the next play Jim Corbus of the Bucs pitched out to Frank Koontz only to have the ball snatched by Rebello of Washington on the 35 and run back 65 yards for a quick touchdown. Their touchdown try was not successful which left the score at 7-6.

Scribner again showed his running ability when he ran the kick back 24 yards and then proceeded 38 yards up the middle for a hard earned touchdown. Corbus converted to make the score 14-6. Penalties and a nice tackle by Hec Cordova proved too much for the Huskies who had six yards to go for a first down as the quarter ended.

At the opening of the second quarter the Huskies were forced to kick which gave Campbell the ball on their own 45 yard line. Vargas and Scribner combined to push the pigskin down to Washington's 7 yard line before the Huskies tightened up and stopped the scoring threat. Washington took over and started bulldozing their way in the opposite direction.

M. Paler of Washington executed some beautiful twisting turning runs to advance the ball to the Campbell 15 where big B. Bachman bulldozed through the center of the line for a touchdown. The Campbell line dug in and stopped the extra scoring punch.

Half Ends 14-12

Campbell fumbled on the kick but Washington failed to materialize a scoring threat before the half ended, leaving the score 14-12.

At this point the game was shaping up to be a real thriller. Both teams were showing amazing style in both running and passing. The majority of plays were run off on Washington's end of th efield with the Huskies scoring on break away runs from far out.

Frank Koontz took the second half kick off for Campbell and ran the ball back 12 yards before being stopped on the Bucs 45 yard line. After penetrating to the 25 of Washington the Bucs fumbled and the Huskies took over on their own 27. Paler squirmed through a host of tacklers to scamper 45 yards to the Bucs 10 yard line before being brought down.

72 Yards to Score

Holding the Huskies to only two yards in four plays the Bucs took over the pampered pigskin on their

Guest Writer of Week

I am very happy to say this week that my prediction on the World Series was right. It was certainly a great series, both teams playing outstanding ball and record breaking pitching.

I am honored to bring you first hand impressions of Sal Taormina, a San Jose resident who was voted most popular player of the San Francisco Seals of the year and won a trip back to the World Series. I know you will enjoy his write up very much.

Copper mining in the Shasta district began in 1894 at the Iron Mountain Mine.

San Francisco Seals Most Popular Player Writes Account of Series

Editor's Note: Marvin Moore, nine-year old sports columnist for The Press has a real "fan" in Sal Taormina, voted the most popular player on the San Francisco Seals. Sal is an avid reader of "Low Down on Sports" and furnished Marvin with an exclusive story of the recent exciting World Series which Sal attended as a prize for winning the popularity poll.

By Sal Taormina
Right Fielder, S. F. Seals

I can honestly say it was my biggest thrill watching the series. Both clubs were terrific defensively and I think the superb pitching of the Yankees made the difference in the series.

Larsen pitched terrific ball, though he was lucky in my estimation in pitching a no-hit, no-run as there were a lot of balls hit real hard off him and MacDougald, Carey, Martin and Mantle made great plays. Turley pitched very well, too, as did Kucks, Sturdivant and Ford.

In the second game when Stengel used seven pichers with no effect right after the game Casey Stengel gave his pitching staff a bawling out and after that they were out there giving their utmost to show Stengel that they were champions.

In all fairness to the Dodgers, they played great ball, too, and never gave up for one minute. Robinson, Reese, Snider are great ball players and great competitors. I thought Campanella had a bad series though he tried hard, too.

Yogi Berra made the difference in the Series as far as offense. He is in my estimation the best all around player in the land. Right now I would take him over Mantle on my club as he is a more solid and poised performer and steadier in the crucial games. Mantle has a tendency to try too hard and consequently he becomes easier to pitch to as he tries to murder the ball. Mantle will be great though barring injuries and if anybody has a chance to break Ruth's record, Mickey will do it as he has great potential.

The players I felt sorry for in the series were Carey and Newcomb. Andy Carey because he was booed in Yankee stadium after making a couple of errors and not hitting and Newcomb because he is considered the big bust of Series play. He still is a great pitcher in my books and if it hadn't been for Berra in the last game he might have won it.

Most people criticize Alston for pitching Newcomb in the last game, but I think public pressure and the New York papers forced him to pitch him. Instead of condemning Newcomb we should give Berra a lot of credit.

All in all both clubs played terrific ball with both clubs making terrific plays in the field and great hitting displayed. Nobody watching this Series got cheated, for I repeat this was my biggest thrill after 14 years.

One of San Francisco's outstanding tourist attractions is Fisherman's Wharf.

Check Aids Polio Fight in County

A check for $18,000 has been received by the Santa Clara County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to provide financial aid for local polio patients, it has been announced by Joseph A. Chargin, Jr., chapter chairman.

Chargin said that this county is one of a number in the nation where local March of Dimes funds are insufficient to cover polio-fighting needs.

Chargin said that the Chapter's present financial plight is the result of the assistance it has given in the past to 182 patents who have required—and still require—costly care to give them a chance to recover their fullest capacities.

Santa Clara Valley Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y fall retreat will be held this year at Camp Campbell, on October 20 and 21. More than 80 boys and girls from the Valley will attend the conference. They are also inviting clubs from East Oaklan, Watsonville and Peninsula Y. M.C.A.'s to attend the event.

The theme for the weekend will be "Youth Planning—A Better World". The feature of the program will be discussion groups around teenage problems. Other items included in the retreat will be dancing, swimming, softball, boating and campfires:

Representatives from Campbell's and Camden's seven Hi-Y Clubs will be in attendance, along with their adult advisors. Ace Hi-Y, under the guidance of advisor Robinson, will handle the camp's chapel program.

Camden High Wins Both Lightweight Tilts from Bucs

Campbell Union High lightweight basketball teams had their win streaks stopped by Camden High lightweights last Thursday on the victor's courts in an intra-district affair.

After Mountain View C's went down to defeat by the score of 46 to 30 to the Campbell C's and the Campbell D's won 28 to 20, the Little Bucs sought to extend their streak at the expense of Camden.

However, Don Johnson sparked the Camden C's with 12 points for an easy 33 to 19 win, and Tosh Hiragi led the Camden D's to a 26 to 21 victory with 16 points. High scorer for Campbell C's was Yasuda with 8 points, and Suhama led the D's with 7.

Campbell Edges Washington

own 8 yard line and set up another touchdown. After gaining one first down, Dave Alvaraz of the second string team proved that he could do some running when he plowed up the middle for a spectacular 72 yard touchdown. This play was a perfect showing of what right blocking can do in the right place. The blocks were timed just right to open a hole for Alvaraz to easily run through.

Washington failed to get back valuable points as the gun went off with the score 20-12 in Campbell's favor.

Holding the Huskies to five yards in three plays the Bucs took possession of the ball on the 45 yard line and uncorked a pass play from Corbus to Koontz for their fourth and final touchdown.

Take to Air

Washington began looking for an easy way to get points so they took to the airways and completed 3 out of 4 passes to get within the Campbell 20 yard line. Bachman then took over and churned off 20 yards for the final touchdown of the game. Paler skirted right end for the extra point to make the score 27-19. The game ended with Campbell driving towards the Washington goal line at a fast clip.

Huskies Improve

The score gives some indication of how much the Huskies have improved over last year's club and also that the battling Bucs of Campbell High are going to be a winning team this season. The Buc's line was hitting especially hard on offense as the groud gained clearly shows. Campbell gained more first down while Washington ruled the airways.

Seven Measures on Ballot

Campbell Mayor to Head Committee In Area Supporting County Bonds

John M. Chargin, mayor of Campbell and attorney, has been appointed chairman for the Campbell area on the Citizens Committee supporting the passage of county bond issues in the November 6 election.

Announcement of Chargin's appointment to the campaign leadership position was announced this week by George B. Myren, chairman of the committee.

Seven bond issues that total $7,115,000 will appear on the election ballot, and approval of all seven of the measures is being urged by the Citizens Committee in an intensive county-wide drive to reach all the voters.

Plan Ahead

"It is good business to plan ahead, and these particular buildings that are going to be built with this bond money will fill an imperative need we have had for some time", Chargin said in explaining why he accepted the work of boosting their passage.

"With the continual growth of the county, it is just common sense that we have to provide for what is going to be soon one of the largest counties in the state," he continued.

Chargin pointed out that the county has a $36,000,000 business and it is growing by leaps and bounds as our population soars rapidly toward the million mark. He said it is necessary to make rapid headway in providing facilities for the entire county.

County Offices

County Office and Service Buildings to be constructed at the Civic Center at an estimated cost of $2,825,000 include Administration (Board of Supervisors, County Executive, County Counsel, Personnel), $575,000; Central Services Building (Office, Shop, Storage, Service Areas, Motor Pool), $800,000; Fiscal Building (Assessor, Tax Collector, Treasurer, Controller), $800,000 and School Department Building $650,000. These are Measure No. 1 on the ballot.

A Chronic Nursing Unit at the County Hospital with a 70-patient capacity at a cost of $450,000 is Measure No. 2. The Juvenile Hall and Probation building which will cost $1,200,000 and remedy the deplorable conditions due to overcrowding at the present Juvenile Hall is Measure No. 3.

No. 4 would authorize $180,000 in bonds for an addition to the County Health Department building on Moorpark Avenue at the San Jose-Los Gatos road to house the Sanitation and Occupational Health Divisions.

North County Buildings

No. 5 would provide $835,000 for the construction of a North County Building on county-owned property on Alma Street at Charleston road in Palo Alto. This structure would have 45,000 square feet of space to house the Superior Court, two municipal courts, jury commissioner, and branch offices for the Assessor, District Attorney, Sheriff, Health and Welfare Departments and the County Clerk.

No. 6 would give the green light to a $350,000 (land included) County Communications Building which would serve as the communications nerve center for all county departments, including police and fire, and also would be the headquarters of the Area Civil Defense Control Center. Its location, yet to be chosen, would be away from congested areas.

Measure No. 7 would provide for the purchase of land. Of this amount $1,000,000 would be used to expand county buildings at the joint City and County Civic Center site, $65,000 would add to the North County Building acreage and $210,000 would be used to increase the County Hospital property.

Land Values Going Up

The chairman emphasized that land purchase cannot be delayed without paying the penalty of greatly increased costs, since land values are continuing to soar.

He also pointed out that a speakers bureau to address all types of organizations on behalf of the bonds is organized, and an intensive campaign is under way. He said groups wishing a speaker are asked to phone the Bond Campaign Office, CYpress 5-1050, Extensions 365 or 366.

U.S. Senator Jackson To Visit Tuesday

United States Senator Henry M. Jackson (Dem. Wash.) will appear in San Jose, Santa Clara and surrounding Valley points next Tuesday, according to M. V. Davis, publications chairman for the Democratic Central Committee of Santa Clara County.

A special steak dinner honoring Senator Jackson will be held at Mariani's Restaurant in Santa Clara at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday. Tickets will be $10 a plate and will be available at Democratic Headquarters in San Jose, Sunnyvale and Palo Alto.

Proceeds from the dinner will go to help offset the campaign expenses of national and local candidates.

Proposition Two Backers Meet

The first meeting of a newly-formed steering commission to work for Proposition 2 met Tuesday, October 2, at the Central Office of the High School District.

The proposition will authorize a $100 million bond issue to aid school building. Schools in the Campbell district will benefit heavily if the measure goes through.

Representing Campbell Elementary School District at the meeting was Mrs. Leonard Meritt; representing Burbank, Mrs. Clark Baldwin; Cambrian, Mrs. Fred Helmbold; Union, Mrs. Jack Emery; Moreland, Mrs. George Robertson; Campbell High School, Mrs. Bruce Holmes; and Camden High School, Mrs. William Murphy.

Allen Criticizes Brown's Report In Talk Here

Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen, incumbent 29th district, chairman of the Assembly Committee on Social Welfare, charged Monday night that Attorney General Brown's report alleging mistreatment of patients in state mental hospitals had done "irreparable harm".

Speaking before a Campbell neighborhood meeting held at the residence of Herbert Shadle, 166 Alice Way, Allen emphasized that the report was "based to a great degree on hearsay and did not have a shred of documentary proof".

"By casting a slur on our state mental hospitals, the report has caused relatives of patients to be needlessly upset and has made it difficult to obtain qualified hospital personnel," Allen vigorously asserted.

He emphasized that the report of the Sub-Committee on Mental Hospitals, after conducting independent hearings at both Agnews and Modesto Hospitals, found "no credibility" in Brown's charges. Half of the members of this committee are Democrats, Allen pointed out, and all committee members signed the report.

Nixon Speaks At San Jose State

Vice President Richard Nixon addressed a tightly-packed gathering of students last Wednesday afternoon in the inner quad at San Jose State College.

Students sat in the lawn under rain-threatening clouds and heard Nixon begin his speech by recalling his days at Whittier College, which, according to the Vice President, seemed to frequently lose to the Spartans when it played them in football.

The Vice President went on to endorse the Republican Party as the party for peace, and to urge students to "someday run for an office." Both parties need new blood, he said.

He mentioned his recent goodwill tour around the world, and said that no matter where you go the common people are for peace.

The address opened Nixon's campaign in the West. Following the speech, Nixon accompanied by his wife, departed for San Francisco..

British Parliament Member to Speak

British Parliament member, George Thomas, will be presented by the Sunday Evening Community Forum at the First Methodist Church, 5th and Santa Clara streets at 7:30 p.m. next Sunday. The Speech, "Brotherhood and Power Politics in the H-Bomb Era", will be the second of the 1956-57 series.

Thomas lives in Cardiff, Wales, and came to America to serve as the principal speaker at the World Methodist Conference held last September at Lake Junaluska, N. C.

He is making his speaking tour under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee of Philadelphia.

A member of Parliament since 1945, Thomas serves on the Chairmen's Panel in the House of Commons. He is president of the National Brotherhood Movement in Great Britain. The public is invited to the admission-free presentation.

Car Dealers Visit Automobile Show

Alton S. Beckham and "Blondlie" Byron Joslin, of the Beckham and Joslin Chrysler-Plymouth Dealers in Saratoga, visited Oakland last week where six stars from Broadway productions previewed for them the 1957 Chrysler and Imperial automobiles.

They were entertained with a musical revue staged for Chrysler by Rodgers and Hammerstein director John Fearnley.

The cars feature twin headlights, three-speed pushbutton Torque Flite transmissions, Torsion Aire suspension and 14-inch wheels, according to Beckham and Joslin.

Some models are lowered as much as five inches. Styling concepts common in advanced aircraft

Proposition Three Provides for State Building Program

The State of California plans a five-year $45 million building program for this area to relieve the overcrowding of its state institutions. It will be part of the $448 million all-state construction plan made necessary by tremendous postwar population increases, and will appear on the November 6 ballot as proposition 3.

The 1955 state legislature voted unanimously to place on the ballot the $200 million "general obligation-pay-as-you use" bond issue to provide an addition to the amount that can be financed from current revenues.

If the bonds are approved the $448 million program, as outlined by State Finance Director John M. Peirce, will include the following projects for the middle-coast area:

Approximately $29 million to San Jose State College for expansion; $12 million for Agnews State Hospital; $1,369,000 for a state building in San Jose; about $240,000 for construction at Lick Observatory; armories to cost $75,600 each (to be partially financed by Federal funds) at Gilroy, Hollister and Watsonville;

Construction worth $1,304,760 at Soledad State Prison; a $29,800 Forestry Department biulding at Morgan Hill; $99,650 to be spent at Felton forestry headquarters and $90,000 at the Ben Lomond forestry honor camp; a $457,449 state office building at Monterey and a $35,000 addition to the Department of Employment Building in Salinas.

Governor Goodwin J. Knight urges the approval of proposition 3, stating that it "would not only assure an orderly approach to the financing of our building needs, but would also relieve to a substantial degree the cumulative pressure of current expenditures and building requirements upon current tax collections."

By a convention between the United States and Nicaragua, proclaimed June 24, 1916, the United States acquired the perpetual right to construct and maintain a ship canal between the Caribbean Sea and the Pacific Ocean by way of Lake Nicaragua.
